About Me

Hey there, I'm Parshva Dodhia, a tech enthusiast with a Bachelor's in Applied Computer Technology from USIU Africa. By day, I'm a freelance web developer, having crafted three websites so far. I've also managed social media accounts for various businesses, including restaurants and a tech company.

Beyond tech, I'm deeply involved in community initiatives, serving as Assistant Secretary for the Oshwal Youth League. I'm passionate about sports—football, cricket, volleyball, you name it—and love hosting events and exploring the outdoors through camping and hiking. Socializing and making connections is where I thrive.

Excited for what's to come and always open to new adventures!
